

INTERNATIONAL
INTERNET
PRESERVATION
CONSORTIUM

{ BnF

General Assembly 2014: Open Day Schedule (May 19th 2014)

9:00 – Welcome and registration

9:30 – Opening remarks

9:40 – Keynote

The role of the Web Observatory in web archiving and analytics (Dame Wendy Hall - Univ. of Southampton)

10:05 – Session: Web archives needs and projects across time and social sciences: topical studies

- The future of the digital heritage of WW1 (Philippe Chevallier - BnF, Valérie Beaudouin – Télécom ParisTech)
- Exploring French language song in the web archive (Dominic Forest - Univ. of Montreal)

10:45 – BREAK

11:15 – Panel: Scholarly use and issues of web archives

- Internet historians and the “risks” of web archives (Valérie Schafer - CNRS)
- Towards a temporal web ? (Louise Merzeau - Univ. Paris-Ouest)
- From Archive 1.0 to Archive 2.0 (Jean-Marc Francony - Univ. of Grenoble)
- Web archive search as research (Anat Ben-David - Univ. of Amsterdam)
- Web archives of deleted youth (Anthony Cocciolo - Pratt Institute)

12:10 – Questions/open discussion

12:30 – LUNCH

14:00 – Keynote

Temporal retrieval, exploration and analytics in web archives (Wolfgang Nejdl - Univ. of Hannover)

14:25 Session: large scale solutions and initiatives

- Enabling machine-scale analysis of web data (Lisa Green, Jordan Mendelson, Kurt Bollacker - Common Crawl)
- Mining a large web corpus (Robert Meusel - Univ. of Mannheim)
- Web-based ultra large scale corpus (Masayuki Asahara - NINJAL)
- From web archiving services to web scale data processing (Chloé Martin - Internet Memory Research)

15.45 – BREAK

16:15 – Session: Building/integrating collections and tools

- Building a national collection of the historical UK web (Helen Hockx-Yu - British Library)
- Data analysis and resource discovery (Tom Storrar, Claire Newing - UK Government Web Archive)
- HIBERLINK: quantifying and addressing link rot in scholarly communications (Martin Klein - Los Alamos National Laboratory)
- Proprioception : a tool kit for web archive datamining (David Rapin - INA, Sophie Gebeil – Maison méditerranéenne des sciences de l’homme)

17:35 – Concluding remarks

Niels Brügger - Univ. of Aarhus

18.00 – ENDS